The German Curling Association (DCV e.V.) is looking for a

National Coach - Elite

The position is advertised as a full-time role with a 40-hour workweek, initially on a fixed-term contract through 31. December 2030.

The position holder serves as the link between the DCV Sports Director, the coaches working at the national training center, and the national team athletes. His or her primary responsibilities focus on technical, tactical, and physical conditioning – specifically related to curling – development.

Responsibilities and duties

- Overseeing the daily training of the national squad (OK) and the national team (PK) at the BSP Füssen
- Primary responsibility for the athletic direction and targeted preparation for key international events such as the European and World Championships
- Responsibility for training planning, management, and monitoring (including documentation of training data)
- Responsibility for tournament planning, as well as the coordination and organization of international tournaments and training camps registered with the DCV, including squad evaluations
- Development of squad guidelines and qualification criteria for major international events such as the European and World Championships, including timely submission to the sports management team
- Close collaboration with the national youth coaches
- Implementation of the sports director's directives
- Development of framework training plans and training methodology guidelines for the national squads in Olympic disciplines

Required qualifications

- Trainer license (sports science with a focus on professional sport, DOSB trainer diploma as a coach in the DOSB or comparable degree).
- several years of coaching experience in Curling
- high professional but also social and strategic skills
- driver's license minimum class B (or comparable)
- Language: fluent English skills, willing to learn German
- Computer skills (MS Office, email, etc.)

Compensation is based on the guidelines issued by the Federal Chancellery and the German Olympic Sports Confederation (DOSB) for national team coaches.
